Driving adoption is key to collaboration success

Help people to use unified communication and collaboration technology.

When you increase adoption, you achieve great results

- Driving adoption starts the moment you begin to plan for UC infrastructure.
- But no matter where you are in your collaboration journey, it’s never too late to improve adoption in your organization!

Start with these 5 easy steps

1. Appoint an adoption owner and give them your existing adoption and utilization score
2. Train on the “why” and the “how” every step of the way
3. Identify power users and reward their success
4. Make technology easy and accessible to use everyday
5. Drive awareness and familiarity with continued campaigns

Start making your workplace more flexible and more human today!